hi it's Blair - Did I miss a call from you?

Got your voice mail. We are searing officers in twice daily at 9am and 9pm. I am not aware of a back log and I am updated regularly. I will verify and get back to you in a few minutes.

Thx

Also, how many RCMP officers have been sworn in since the start of the demonstration? Are any pending.

421 RCMP officers are on the list provided to OPS. Of those 306 are sworn in. There is no delay in 421 RCMP officers are on the list provided to OPS. Of those 306 are sworn in. There is no delay in swearing in. RCMP asked for two swearing in times. When shifts change. 9am and 9pm. From the time we get the name from the RCMP to getting it approved by Ministry and sworn in it's within a day or less. We are very flexible. It's important to note that this does not mean the officers sworn in are deployed and it doesn't mean the ones on the list that are not yet sworn in have arrived.

Today I am working on the numbers of officers deployed to the occupation from OPS, OPP

Today I am working on the numbers of officers deployed to the occupation from OPS, OPP, Municipalities and RCMP to get an accurate/verified picture. It's a lot more complicated than expected and I am not sure why that is yet.
Thanks for this Blair.
Let me know if you need anything else. The important thing at this point is we can't say there are hundreds of RCMP officers deployed because the staffing numbers just do not show that I know.

I know.

Regarding the lists you are working on today, will it be possible to know, shift by shift who worked for us and how many?

Eventually but not in real time.

I will be able to tell you who worked yesterday by service and the daily average # provided by service.

If we were to invite the Prime Minister and the Premier to sit down with the service to have a briefing on our resourcing levels, could we paint an accurate picture?

I would know better after our 6pm briefing.

But yes I would think so

Ok thanks. Let me know. Wow, this is really baptism by fire for you!

Yes. I have lots of good stories - and some I can share😂

😬 I will look forward to hearing them when this nightmare ends!
